THE ANNALS OF JAZZ WITH RICHARD HADLOCK

SUNDAYS AT 7 PM

The sound of surprise describes both jazz itself and the enduring premise of "The Annals of Jazz." Since 1959, host Richard Hadlock has been improvising on historical themes and bringing forth worthy performers—from Armstrong to Zorn. Each Sunday, we may find Annals in Europe, Asia, Latin America or Back of Town anywhere.

JAZZ NIGHT IN AMERICA WITH CHRISTIAN MCBRIDE

MONDAY AT 9 PM

8/5 Artemis

It's a jazz super-group: Renee Rosnes, Cécile McLorin Salvant, Ingrid Jensen, Melissa Aldana, Anat Cohen, Noriko Ueda, Allison Miller. Jazz Night in America captured their performance at the Newport Jazz Festival, and caught up with them to talk about the significance of their all-female band.

8/12 Clarksdale Blues

On this episode of Jazz Night in America, we'll go to Clarksdale, Miss., to get a temperature reading at ground level, where struggling musicians are finally beginning to reap the benefits of a recent wave of blues tourism.

8/19 Electric Miles

Jazz Night in America grapples with one of the most passionately debated artists in American music -Miles Davis- when he turned the jazz world upside down. We explore Electric Miles -from Bitches Brew to Tutu- how his rock-influenced sound galvanized massive audiences, annoyed the critics, and created a controversy that outlived his lifetime. On the 50th Anniversary of Miles going electric, a period once shunned by the jazz community, is now celebrated onstage at Jazz at Lincoln Center with one of Miles's last collaborators, the electric bassist Marcus Miller.

8/26 Chick Corea Back Home in Boston

Chick Corea and his trio (Carlitos del Puerto: bass, Marcus Gilmore: drums) return to Chick's hometown of Boston. Corea sits down with Jazz Night in America host, Christian McBride, to reminisce.
